

A large-scale broiler chicken farm. The image shows a vast number of white chickens packed into long, narrow rows. In the foreground, several red water dispensers are visible, each with a white cup. The background shows the structural elements of the farm, including vertical wooden posts and overhead pipes. The overall scene is a dense, organized industrial poultry operation.

Please click here to view the presentation:

Vertical Integration of the Broiler Industry

a GTK project